FOREWORD

The 1971-1975 Five-Year Index is the sixth volume in the series of Facts On File master news indexes covering the 30 years beginning in 1946.

Subscribers to Facts on File, familiar with the service's cumulative news index and with the annual index found in Facts On File Yearbooks, will find the series an invaluable addition to their research and reference collections. Those who have not previously used Facts On File indexes will find the 1971-1975 edition a comprehensive yet simple-to-use guide to the 200,000 most significant events of the period.

The Five-Year Index is designed for use in exactly the same way as a book or periodical index. It incorporates some special features to speed the researcher's task, whether he or she is spot-checking a key date or constructing the chronology of a complex political event involving several countries.

- The five vertical columns each contain a full year's index entries for the headings covered on the page.

- Parallel alphabetization of the headings in each column gives the researcher five years of information on a subject with a single scan of the page.

- Every event covered is indexed or cross-referenced names by subject, country or organization and personal names. This means, for example, that the researcher seeking information on the 1974 pardon by President Ford of Richard Nixon would find the item indexed under FORD (Politics—Nixon Resignation), NIXON (Politics—Impeachment & Resignation Issues) and WATERGATE (U.S. Prosecution).

- Index entries give a brief description of the event, followed by the date it occurred and the page, column and marginal letter for locating the more detailed Facts On File report in the yearbook concerned. Additional information usually can be found in newspapers of the day following the date of the event.

Used together with the library of bound Facts On File Yearbooks, published since 1941, the six volumes of Five-Year Indexes are a powerful aid to rapid research on the events of the recent past. This new edition is one more step in a thirty-five-year tradition of recording and indexing the news—a tradition that has placed Facts On File in newsrooms, libraries, schools and research centers throughout the world.
